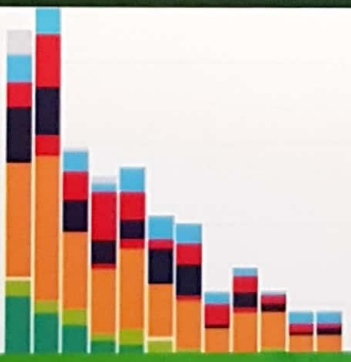
NIGERIA DIGEST OF EDUCATION STATISTICS



2014-2016

Foreword

A nation's position in today's highly competitive global knowledge economy is directly dependent on the quality of its human capital – the aggregate of skills and knowledge imparted to its citizens by its education system. Its highly trained workforce must be able to innovate and compete on the world stage.

But a trained workforce is never the result of accident: it is always the result of a deliberate and conscious plan; and, in order to plan well, a nation needs accurate data. Accurate data is needed to plan, to set priorities, to monitor what is going on and be able to review at the end of it all.

The collection, analysis and interpretation–and use–of data and statistics is crucial in all decision making, more especially in all areas and at every stage of the education system. In the effort to provide education for all, in the drive to catch, keep and retain children in school, in the larger fight against poverty and in the need to measure successes in both, the collection of accurate statistics remains crucial.

Unfortunately, it is a matter of great regret that Nigeria has been noted for its notoriety in not keeping accurate, reliable and timely data in the education sector and in other fields. The country's profile in global reports and in digests of international statistics always shows obvious gaps; and at home allocation of resources to tackle the many challenges of the education sector is not evidence based. Clearly, such a situation shouldn't remain acceptable.

Effort to change the situation is now in top gear. The Nigeria Digest of Education Statistics, 2014-2016, which is designed to address the need for data in the education sector, and is the third in the series– following the 2006-2010 and 2011-2013 editions– is a masterful effort to marshal education data. This edition presents data from early childhood care education to the tertiary sector, the non-formal sector, a record of funding intervention in the sector, as well as examination statistics. The data presented here allows for further analysis and manipulation by interested stakeholders. And it will certainly address a felt need.

I would like to thank and commend international development partners for their support to some of the states in their effort in collecting the data presented here, especially that part of it having to do with the Annual School Census. I must also add that this collection of data would not have seen the light of day without the cooperation of those states that accepted to partner with the Federal Ministry of Education during the conduct of the school census.

For the future, I would like to solicit the full cooperation of all the states, private schools as well as military and paramilitary schools. Among other things, this will pave the way for accurately determining the exact population of our out-of-school children. I therefore urge all education administrators to work together to ensure that Nigeria continues to report her education data promptly. Not doing so is not an option because the future of the country may in the end come to depend on it.

We must realise that this publication is not an end in itself: it is but a guide to help in the development and formulation of education policy. I would therefore wish to urge researchers, planners and policy makers to use the data presented here with confidence for all purposes.

It is my pleasure to present Nigeria Education Statistics, 2014-2016 to all stakeholders and to the general public. It is my hope that it will begin to address the recurring challenge presented by the absence of accurate, reliable and timely data in the education sector in Nigeria.

Preface

The development of any country depends largely on the functionality and attainment of its educational system. The Federal Ministry of Education has the mandate to maintain high standards through the implementation of policies that would lead to the rapid and sustainable development of the education sector. The success of the sector is measured by qualitative education data provided to stakeholders.

Over the years, Nigeria has not been able to respond to international data collection and reporting and has also failed to produce data for national use. The country has faced such challenges as low quality of data and delay in data reporting by the states. The publication and dissemination of this edition of the Nigeria Digest of Education Statistics is therefore an important milestone which has finally addressed the backlog of education data in the country.

We appreciate the support of the International Development Partners (IDPs) especially UNICEF, ESSPIN-DFID and World Bank for their support in the conduct of the Annual Schools Census (ASC) exercise as well as in Education Management Information System activities in the various states. The further support of the World Bank in the conduct of 2015/2016 ASC in the states and the Federal Capital Territory that were not supported by development partners has helped immensely.

The content of this publication, which includes school-age population, enrolment at pre-primary school, basic and senior secondary school and tertiary levels, the non-formal sub-sector as well as other requisite data within the education sector came from all the State Ministries of Education, State Universal Basic Education Boards, Education Resource Centre of the Federal Capital Territory and relevant parastatals of the Federal Ministry of Education.

This 2014-2016 edition of the Nigeria Digest of Education Statistics also includes narration, tables, facts sheets, graphs and diagrams. Requisite education indicators have also been included. These would be relevant to various stakeholders, including researchers, who desire to use requisite and reliable education data. It is hoped that the publication will serve as a baseline for monitoring progress as we direct national efforts for the achievement of our national and global commitments.

The Nigeria Digest of Education Statistics has consistently addressed the issue of data availability in the education sector. Reporting of education data to all stakeholders has become inevitable in recent times. This is aimed at closing the gap in the sector to ease data backlogs. The publication of the current Nigeria Digest of Education Statistics, 2014 - 2016 will enable Nigeria report to the global community promptly. It has come as a breakthrough that could not have been accomplished without the direction of the Most High and the support of stakeholders nationwide. The Department of Educational Planning, Research and Development would like to acknowledge the efforts and contributions of all the establishments at the national and international levels toward this publication.

CHAPTER ONE
Early Child Care Development and Pre-Primary Education

1.0 Introduction

Provision in formal settings for care of children below the official six years age of entry into primary school encompasses Early Child Care Education (ECCE). It is conceived as Early Child Care Development and Education (ECCDE), incorporating aspects of growth as the cognitive, psychomotive, affective and social domains. Early Child Care Development and Education has components which are care provided in day care centers or crèches/kindergarten for children aged 0-2 years, children at nursery level aged 3-4 years and children in pre-primary, 5 years of age. In 2012 pre-primary education became a component of the compulsory basic education policy; making it mandatory for children aged 5 years to enrol in formal education. Although ECCE ensures readiness for primary education, the level of compliance with this policy directive varies amongst states. This chapter presents statistics on ECCDE and Pre-Primary 2013/14 to 2015/16.

1.1 Enrolment in ECCDE and Pre-Primary

Table 1.1 is a summary of enrolment in public ECCDE and Pre-Primary by class and gender and is graphically represented on figure1.1, while table 1.2 and figure 1.2 present the summary of the statistics on enrolment for private ECCDE and Pre-Primary.

1.2 Enrolment in ECCDE and Pre-Primary School by State

Tables 1.3 to 1.8 represent the statistics on enrolment by State, class and gender in public ECCDE and Pre-Primary for 2013/14 to 2015/16. It is obvious from the data that in general, more boys than girls are enrolled for all categories/class in public and private ECCDE and Pre-Primary when aggregated by State, which most probably aligns with the population distribution with slightly more boys than girls for the age cohort.

CHAPTER TWO

PRIMARY EDUCATION

2.0 Introduction

The basic education programme in Nigeria is aimed at eradicating illiteracy, ignorance and poverty. It is also designed to engender accelerated national development, political consciousness and national integration. The nine-year basic education programme comprises 6 years of primary and 3 years of junior secondary education. This chapter presents statistics on primary components.

2.1 Primary Education

The primary education programme offers a wide range of courses such as Basic Mathematics, Basic Sciences and Technology, Languages including English and the language of the immediate environment as well as Social Studies and others. The Universal Basic Education Commission (UBEC) is the government parastatal that coordinates the disbursement of federal allocation (2% of the Consolidated Revenue Fund) to basic education and monitors Universal Basic Education (UBE) programme implementation. CHAPTER THREE

JUNIOR SECONDARY SCHOOL

3.0 Introduction.

Junior Secondary School comprises the last three years of the 9- year Basic Education programme in Nigeria. This level of education caters for children from ages 12 to 14 years and is structured into JSS 1, JSS 2 and JSS 3. It is both academic and pre-vocational. With the successful completion of this component of education, based on continuous assessment and the prescribed Basic Education Certificate Examination (BECE), its graduates are streamed on the basis of aptitude and interest. Students who qualify at this level are admitted into SSS 1, the first year of Senior Secondary School. Those students that are interested in vocational training enrol into full vocational programmes.

At the Junior Secondary School level, students are exposed to core subjects such as English Language, Basic Mathematics, Social Studies, Integrated Science, Agricultural Science and Religious Studies, in addition to vocational and technical subjects.

3.7 Teacher Statistics in Public and Private Junior Secondary Schools

Teacher statistics at Junior Secondary Schools by ownership and Gender from 2011/2012 - 2015/2016 are captured in table 3.20 while the Bar chart in fig 3.8 gives the graphical illustration. Information from the table shows that the male teachers were consistently in the increase in Public schools except in 2014/2015 where the female teachers outnumbered the male teachers. For the Private schools, the increase between male and female teachers was not consistent. The graphical illustration of the summaries in table 3.20 is presented in fig 3.8.

In tables 3.21 to 3.23, the data provided is on the total number of all teachers with emphasis on the 'qualified teachers' in Public and Private Schools. The general observation in all the tables is that the data provided were insufficient, with some States having no data. However, in 2015/2016 the data provided for qualified teachers in public schools were more comprehensive as compared to that of private Schools.

4.7 Students-Teacher Ratio

Table 4.24 is on students-teacher ratio across States in public and private Senior Secondary Schools from 2013/2014 to 2015/2016. The information observed indicates that while data from across the States (2013/2014 and 2014/2015) were not comprehensive, only data from States in 2015/2016 were comprehensive irrespective of whether public or private School.

CHAPTER FIVE

TERTIARY EDUCATION

5.0 Introduction

Tertiary education is education offered after secondary and vocational education. It includes education at Universities, Polytechnics, Monotechnics, Colleges of Education and other institutions of higher learning.

While tertiary education is largely the responsibility of Federal and State governments, individuals and organisations also participate. However, Federal Government through its agencies such as the National University Commission (NUC) for universities, National Board for Technical Education (NBTE) for polytechnics and monotechnics and National Commission for Colleges of Education (NCCE) for colleges of education are responsible for regulating these institutions.

5.1 Universities

There were 129 universities in Nigeria as at 2012/2013 academic session. These comprised of 40 federal, 39 states and 50 private universities. However in 2014/2015 we have 147 universities made up of 46 federal, 40 states and 61 private but data is available for 2010/2011 to 2012/2013. Tables 5.1.1 to 5.1.5 show universities distribution by ownership and their enrolment. Also presented in Fig. 5.1.1 is the University distribution by ownership, while female participation is graphically illustrated in Fig 5.1.2 for the 2013/2014 to 2015/2016 school academic session.

CHAPTER SIX

ADULT AND NON-FORMAL EDUCATION

6.1 Introduction

Mass literacy, adult and non-formal education is the equivalent of basic education given to adults, children and youths of formal school age, outside the formal school system. The aims are to:

- Provide functional basic education for adults and youths who have never had the advantage of formal education or who left school too early. The target groups include migrant folks, almajiri pupils, illiterate and semi-literate adults, youths and adolescents; persons who left the formal school system early and are now willing to come back and continue schooling. It also involves other categories of disadvantaged groups; who are unable to have access to the conventional educational system and therefore require other forms of educational programmes to cater for their particular/peculiar needs and circumstances;
- provide remedial education for youths and adults who did not complete secondary education;
- provide in-service, vocational and professional training for different categories of workers and professionals in order to improve their skills

The National Commission for Mass Literacy, Adult and Non-formal Education (NMEC) is responsible for the administration of Adult and Non Formal Education. The Commission has supporting State structures referred to as State Agencies for Mass Education (SAMEs) and these exist in all the 36 States and Federal Capital Territory (FCT).

This chapter presents Statistics on Adult and Non-Formal Education for the: 2013/14 – 2015/16. Adult Education comprises Basic literacy for Beginners and Post Literacy education for completers of Basic literacy.

CHAPTER SEVEN

EXAMINATION STATISTICS

7.0 Introduction

In Nigeria, examination bodies such as WAEC, NECO, NABTEB and JAMB are established with the mandate to conduct qualifying examinations for entry into the various levels of education and administering examinations for certification at the completion of programmes. These examination bodies include the West African Examination Council (WAEC), National Examination Council (NECO) National Business and Technical Examination Board (NABTEB) and Joint Admission and Matriculation Board (JAMB). This chapter presents the enrolment and performances of candidates in national examinations.

7.1.0 West African Examination Council (WAEC)

The West African Examinations Council (WAEC) is an examination body which was established in 1951 by Anglophone West African Countries (Ghana, Nigeria, Sierra Leone, Liberia and the Gambia) to conduct different categories of examinations prominent among which are the West African Senior School Certificate Examination (WASSCE), School Certificate/General Certificate of Education (SC/GCE O' Level), and the Higher School Certificate/General Certificate of Education (HSC/GCE A' Level).

7.1.1 Candidates Enrolment

Tables 7.1.1 and 7.1.2 shows the number of candidates in public and private schools that sat for the May/June WASSCE Examination 2013 – 2016 respectively, which are graphically presented in figs 7.1.1 and 7.1.2. Also Table 7.1.3 shows the number of candidates who enrolled for the November/December WASSCE examination with the graphical presentation in Fig 7.1.3.

The requirement in Nigeria for admission into tertiary institutions as well as in most other establishments is obtaining credit level passes in five subjects and above, including English Language and Mathematics. Tables 7.1.2 - 7.1.12 presents the performances of candidates in public and private schools in the June/July 2014, 2015 and 2016 WASSCE examination; and external candidates in the November/December examination.

7.3.0 Joint Admission and Matriculation Board (JAMB)

The Joint Admission and Matriculation Board (JAMB) was initially set up to streamline the admission process into all Universities (Federal, State and Private) in Nigeria. Overtime, its mandate was extended to cover admissions into all three types of tertiary institutions (Universities, Polytechnics and Colleges of Education). JAMB carries out its mandate through the conduct of the Unified Tertiary Matriculation Examination (UTME) as well as through the Direct Entry route.

The Board places suitably qualified candidates in tertiary institutions after taking into consideration the carrying capacity of each institution, the guidelines approved by each institution and the preference indicated by the candidates for tertiary institutions and courses.

7.3.1 Application and Admission

Tables 7.3.1 shows the trend of application and admission for the period 2011/12 – 2015/16 by year and gender as well as the rate of female participation. Fig 7.3.1 depicts the graphical distribution of the data for the period. Tables 7.3.2, 7.3.3 and 7.3.4 present the distribution of application and admission into Universities by State and gender for the academic years 2013/14, 2014/15 and 2015/16 together with the percentage of admission by States and proportion of female admission.

7.3.2 Application and Admission into Faculties

Tables 7.3.5, 7.3.7 and 7.3.9 presents the application to faculties for Degree programmes by States for the 2013/2014, 2014/2015 and 2015/2016 academic sessions. It would appear that Agriculture is not popular with females in Zamfara, Sokoto, Kaduna, Jigawa and FCT as less than 10 candidates applied for this programme from these States. This observation pervades the application format in the years under consideration.

Similarly, Tables 7.3.6, 7.3.8, 7.3.10 and 7.3.13 presents the application to faculties for National Diploma (ND) and Nigeria Certificate in Education (NCE) by States and gender to programmes in Polytechnics and Colleges of Education. The data confirms the preferential application to Universities rather than the Polytechnics and Colleges of Education.

Table 7.3.17 presents the summary of application and admission into Faculties over the period 2013/2014, 2014/2015 and 2015/2016. It shows that the number of applicants had grown across the Faculties during the period. For instance, in the Faculties of Arts and Humanities, applications had grown from 20,000 to 90,000 within the period under consideration. In Engineering, applications had grown about 6 times within the same period. However, the number of candidates admitted has not reflected the pattern of growth of applications. Indeed, the pattern has remained consistent. This is graphically depicted in Figure 7.3.2.

CHAPTER EIGHT

FUNDING OF EDUCATION

8.0 Introduction

Funding of education has always been a joint responsibility. Funds are sourced from Federal, State, Local government, community, parents, faith based organizations, proprietors of institutions, the private sector and other stakeholders. While it is relatively easy to get the expenditure for education from Federal, State and Local government, such information may hardly be available from other sources. The Federal government's contribution comes from budgetary appropriation and some agencies such as UBEC and TETFund. The last column on table 8.1 gives the percentage of national budget assigned to education. Figure 8.1 shows the chart representation of the capital and recurrent budget of the ministry within the period 2014 to 2016.

8.1 Universal Basic Education Fund

The Federal Government's contribution to basic education comes from 2 per cent FGN Consolidated Revenue Fund managed by Universal Basic Education Commission (UBEC). This fund is allocated to states on annual basis according to a formula which UBEC determines from time to time. Table 8.3 shows the allocation for the period 2014 -2016. States are expected to collect these funds on provision of counterpart funds to run their basic education programme. In the year 2014, four States apparently did not meet the requirements to collect their allocation while twenty five States failed to collect in 2015. Figure 8.2 shows the national summary of allocation and disbursement of the matching grants to States.

8.2 Tertiary Education Trust Fund

The Tertiary Education Trust Fund was established by TETFund Bill of 2011 to rehabilitate, restore and consolidate Tertiary Education and Tertiary Infrastructure through funding and effective project management. The Act imposes 2 per cent Education Tax on the assessable profit of all registered companies in Nigeria, collectible by the Federal Inland Revenue Service (FIRS). The tax so collected is administered by the Fund, and deployed to the Education sector through allocations to all segments of Tertiary Education as provided in the enabling Act.

Funds from TETFund are distributed among the Universities, Polytechnics and Colleges of Education. The allocations to institutions in the period 2014 to 2016 are presented in tables 8.4 to 8.7 while Figure 8.3 shows the graphical illustration.
