FOREWORD

The development of this first edition of the Implementation Guidelines for the National Policy on ICT in Education is necessitated by the need to facilitate the actualization of the policy within a given timeline. This document is the product of collaboration between the Federal Ministry of Education and other relevant Federal Ministries, Departments and Agencies, State Ministries of Education, IT Professional Bodies, Private Sector, Non-Governmental Organizations and International Development Partners.

The guidelines provide the modalities for targeting different beneficiaries of the policy at all levels of education for effective development and deployment of ICT in Education. It further provides a simplified framework on the responsibilities of the various stakeholders for the realization of the policy in specific focal areas such as Human Capital, Infrastructure, Research and Development, Awareness and Communication, Governance, Financing and Monitoring & Evaluation.

In addition, the document provides the indices for conducting baseline survey on the status of ICT development and deployment in Education and for monitoring and impact assessment within a specified period of time.

I therefore, call on all stakeholders in education to embrace this Implementation Guidelines in order to harness the benefits of ICT in Education for the development of our dear country.

DEFINITIONS

(i) ICT

ICT refers to the art and applied sciences that deal with data and information. It encompasses all (equipment including computational machinery - computers, hardware, software, firmware etc., tools, methods, practices, processes, procedures, concepts, principles and the sciences) that come into play in the conduct of the information activities: acquisition, representation, processing, presentation, security, interchange, transfer, management, organization, storage and retrieval of data and information.

(ii) ICT-enhanced Education

ICT-enhanced Education

- Universally Accessible

- (i) Takes into account a variety of student characteristics, including ethnicity, race, abilities, disabilities, age, gender, language abilities and preferred learning style.
- (ii) Uses proactive and inclusive way of teaching and designing courses and curricula.
- (iii) Barriers to learning are removed before they can affect anyone.
- (iv) Identifies and clearly expresses the essential course content, while recognizing that students can express understanding of essential course content in multiple ways.
- (v) Academic rigour is not compromised.
- (vi) Is consistent with universally recognized principles of good teaching.

- Empowering

- (i) Teachers and trainers use technology to support all learning across the curriculum, functioning as coaches, mentors, advocates and managers of information;
- (ii) Through on-going and comprehensive professional development, all teachers and trainers acquire the knowledge and skills to integrate technology into a challenging and interdisciplinary curriculum which addresses specific needs, developmental levels and learning styles of learners;

- (iii) The teachers and trainers are transformed, through technology, from authority-experts to facilitators guiding the students/learners to use technology to find answers online.
  - (iv) The students/learners are empowered to find their own answers, making the learning process to become much more interesting.
  - (v) Instructional repertoire is expanded allowing opportunities for multimedia and interactivity that are impossible with more traditional instructional techniques.
  - (vi) The students/learners are transformed from passive recipients of the knowledge of the teacher/trainer to active participants in knowledge-seeking and knowledge-construction, with the teachers/trainers often learning new technology programmes along with them.
- Enriching
    - (i) The individual's collaborative intellectual processes, personal experiences of exploration and discovery, as part of the search for truth, are enriched;
    - (ii) Increased accessibility to information is engendered. For example, the Internet provides access to considerable amount of information, media and communications and if the students/learners have computer and internet access, assignments, activities, assessments, multimedia and so on can be provided over the web and completed anywhere, providing for a wider range of instructional opportunities for anytime, anywhere, any path and any pace learning.
  - Inclusive
    - (i) All students are welcomed by their schools in age-appropriate, regular classes and are supported to learn, contribute and participate in all aspects of the life of the school.

- (ii) Schools, classrooms, programmes and activities are developed and designed so that all students including learners with special needs learn and participate together.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

The Federal Government of Nigeria adopted a National Information and Communication Technology (ICT) Policy aimed at providing a framework for streamlining the ICT sector, and enhancing its ability to catalyse and sustain socio-economic development critical to Nigeria's vision of becoming a top 20 economy by the year 2020. Concurrently, the policy thrust will facilitate the transformation of Nigeria into a knowledge-based economy and will be used to develop action plans, sub-sectoral policies and specific implementation guidelines as appropriate.

The Federal Ministry of Education, recognizing the need to reposition education sector in Nigeria to meet global standards and competitiveness, developed the National Policy on Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) in Education in collaboration with relevant stakeholders. The policy was subsequently approved by the Federal Executive Council in April 2010 for implementation across the Federation. The policy aims at ensuring qualitative education for the enhancement of sustainable socio-economic development, global competitiveness and the individual's ability to survive in the contemporary environment. The Policy also provides the needed guidelines on expectations for the entire process of ICT integration in education to all stakeholders. Its implementation is expected to lead to speedy transformation of teaching, learning and educational administration in Nigeria.

A major provision in the National Policy on ICT in Education is the development of implementation guidelines using a multi-sectoral approach. The document is intended to guide stakeholders towards a coordinated implementation of the policy, by providing viable options for translating the policy intentions to concrete actions and results.

The first major attempt at ensuring the functionality of the policy is the collaboration among relevant stakeholders to develop the implementation framework on the seven focal areas of the policy:

- Human Capital Development
- Infrastructure
- Research and Development
- Awareness and Communication
- Governance
- Financing
- Monitoring and Evaluation

The document specifies the implementation strategies, sub-strategies, activities, deliverables, implementing agencies, timelines and Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) for the successful realization of the policy objectives.

It must be noted that this document provides a comprehensive approach that ensures standard in the implementation of the policy at all levels of Nigeria's education system. However, the complexities and capabilities of the various stakeholders within the federal structure will require creativity and political will for sustained implementation of the document for the desired impact. It is therefore imperative that this document, as with all human endeavours, be periodically reviewed and updated for relevance.

1.1 Vision

Education that is universally accessible, empowering, inclusive and enriching.

1.2 Mission

To meet the human capital requirement of the nation for attaining and enhancing sustainable socio-economic development, global competitiveness as well as the individual's ability to survive in a contemporary environment.

1.3 Objectives

The objectives of ICT in Education are:

- (i) To facilitate the teaching and learning processes.
- (ii) To promote problem-solving, critical thinking and innovative skills.
- (iii) To promote life-long learning and advance knowledge.
- (iv) To enhance the various teaching/learning strategies required to meet the needs of the population.
- (v) To foster research and development.
- (vi) To support effective and efficient education administration.
- (vii) To enhance universal access to information.
- (viii) To widen access to education and the range of instructional options and opportunities for any-where, any-time, any-pace and any-path learning.
- (ix) To promote commercialization of ICT in Education.
- (x) To develop and support technical infrastructure that maximizes digital creativity, sharing and innovation.

1.4 Policy Thrust

Government shall:

- (i) build and encourage the development, utilization and sustenance of the ICT manpower required to achieve an ICT-enhanced Education;
- (ii) establish and sustain a common ICT infrastructure platform for education at all levels;
- (iii) ensure and encourage Research and Development (R&D) in ICT generally and ICT in Education in particular;

NATIONAL IMPLEMENTATION GUIDELINES FOR ICT IN EDUCATION

- (iv) engage in and encourage regular stakeholder consultations (including the Private Sector), sensitization of the learning community, public awareness and inter-governmental relations to achieve a broad-based consensus on ICT in education;
- (v) provide appropriate legal, regulatory and security framework to ensure that ICT in Education and the conduct of related activities are focused on achieving ICT-enhanced Education; and
- (vi) adopt innovative and creative financing models for ICT in Education.
- (vii) Use M&E as a veritable tool in ICT in Education for tracking policy implementation, efficient service delivery and compliance.

2.0 HUMAN CAPITAL DEVELOPMENT

Education is facing the challenge of severe shortage of ICT skills and personnel, obsolete curriculum, poor attitude and perception of teachers and administrators in ICT.

The intention is to improve ICT competencies and professional development of relevant stakeholders in the development and deployment of ICT in teaching, learning and educational administration. This will involve restructuring the environment for teaching, learning and educational administration, encouraging professional development and ICT skills acquisition, and periodical curricula review. It will also involve development of standards for IT education, strengthening blended and e-learning, open and distance education, encouraging private sector participation and carrying out monitoring and evaluation.

3.0 INFRASTRUCTURE

There is inadequate ICT infrastructure in the country in general and in the Education sector in particular. Therefore, the need to provide the infrastructure required to attain improved ICT in Education, using innovative methods to support consistent research and development, integration and sustenance of ICT in education, is imperative.

The emphasis therefore, is to create a common ICT platform for the sharing of resources in teaching, learning, research and educational administration; support equitable access to ICT resources; and provide facilities for storage and management of data. Also, it is to promote indigenous content, provide alternative power supply and develop a mechanism for disposal of unserviceable ICT equipment as well as technical support.

3.1 Policy Statement

Government shall establish and sustain a common ICT infrastructure platform for education at all levels.

3.2 Strategies

- (i) Ensure adequate supply of ICT systems for access to software applications, local and International contents and online learning resources at all educational institutions and establishment.
- (ii) Ensure that all educational institutions and establishments are interconnected to create a common platform that will facilitate the sharing of resources and reduce duplication. The platform will provide a secure network for administrative purposes as well as access to the Internet for instructional and professional development.
- (iii) Ensure that ICT systems for education administration are in place and all necessary common infrastructure for the storage and management of the ensuing data are provided in all educational institutions and establishments.
- (iv) Promote and encourage the design, development, acquisition and hosting of indigenous content.
- (v) Facilitate data and content sharing among educational institutions and establishments.
- (vi) Ensure provision of cost effective and sustainable alternative power supply.
- (vii) Develop a mechanism for the disposal of unserviceable ICT equipment in educational institutions and establishments.
- (viii) Adopt strategies for technical support, maintenance for ICT in education and Business Continuity.
