FOREWORD

Nigeria like most other countries of the world is undergoing rapid social, economic and political reforms. The impetus for these changes is fuelled by the nation's commitment to such international goals of development as the Education for All (EFA), the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), and our own home-grown National Economic Empowerment and Development Strategy (NEEDS) I and II that recognises education as a means of empowering the people for the attainment of the nation's developmental plans and targets.

In Nigeria, the National Policy on Education (NPE) prescribes national guidelines and requirements for the effective administration, management and implementation of education at all tiers of government. The National Policy on Education therefore, is a statement of intentions, expectations, goals and standards for quality education delivery in Nigeria. The need for Nigeria to record fundamental changes in her socio-economic and political structures wholly dictated the direction of change in the nation's education policy thrust and guidelines. Thus, given the tempo of development activities on-going in both the global and local contexts, a review of the National Policy on Education became imperative for aligning the nation's education system with the prevailing developmental goals in a global context. The 2004 edition of the NPE was revised in 2007 to accommodate some of such changes. Before the draft 5th edition of 2007 could be adopted, printed and disseminated, rapid changes and reforms had taken place in the education sector.

In 2009, in order to meet the ideals of Human Capital Development, the Federal Ministry of Education prepared a Roadmap for the Development of the Nigerian Education Sector. This was followed by the 1 (One) Year Strategy Plan for the Development of the Education Sector (May 2010 - April 2011), and the 4 (Four) Year Strategy Plan for the Development of the Education Sector (2011 - 2015). Also in 2011, the President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria initiated a Transformation Agenda to drive the attainment of NEEDS and Vision 20:2020 as well as consolidate its gains. These strategy plans in education, as well as the Blueprints of the Transformation Agenda expanded the role for education as an investment for economic, social and political development: to include education as:

(i) an aggregate tool of empowerment for the poor, and the socially marginalised groups;
(ii) an effective means of developing the full capacities and potentials of human resource, as well
(iii) the development of competent work force through the acquisition of practical life skills relevant to the world of work as a veritable means of developing sound intelligent learning societies, fit and relevant to the 21st century.

This 2014 NPE edition was prepared to update the 2007 edition and in the process, accommodate the above recent developments in the subsectors in the context of the Transformation Agenda and the ensuing Strategy Plans in education.

Our covenant with every Nigerian child therefore, is access to quality education relevant to the need of the Nigerian Economy. Therefore, the policy guidelines and prescriptions contained herein are to be achieved through strategic and collaborative partnerships with key stakeholders. The Mission is to NUTURE the MIND and in the process Create a Good Society that can compete globally. YES, WE CAN.

Malam Ibrahim Shekarau CON
Sardaunan Kano
Honourable Minister of Education
PREFACE

The National Policy on Education (NPE) is the prescription of the philosophical foundation for the Nigerian Education System which is aimed at streamlining efforts in the education sector. The NPE constitutes blueprints for successive education development as well as serve as the reference point for educational plan implementation.

The Nigerian education sector has the advantage of ample constitutional provisions and legislative support for the three tiers of government (Federal, State and Local) and all other stakeholders to participate in the delivery of education at all levels. As a result, the private sector, Civil Society Organisations (CSOs), Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs), International Development Partners (IDPs), communities and private individuals are very active in the sector. The key challenges are to effectively coordinate activities and interventions, as well as to strengthen and deepen collaboration through appropriate policy guidelines, monitoring and quality control.

The Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria stipulates the direction of national policy towards ensuring equal and adequate educational opportunities at all levels of education and the provision of compulsory, free and universal primary education; free university education; and free adult literacy programme as soon as practicable. It provides the basic legal framework for all the three tiers of government Federal, State and Local to participate in the management and provision of education. The Second Schedule, Part II, paragraphs 27 to 30 of the Constitution includes education in the Concurrent List in which both the Federal and State governments can engage. The provision and maintenance of primary, adult and vocational education is listed in paragraph 2(a) of the Fourth Schedule as one of the functions that Local governments can perform.

The educational responsibilities of the Federal Government are carried out through the Federal Ministry of Education (FME), the 36 State Ministries of Education (SMOEs) and the FCT Education Secretariat as well as the 774 Local Government Education Authorities (LGEAs).

The National Council on Education (NCE) comprises of the Minister of Education as Chair, Honourable Minister of State for Education, State Commissioners of Education and the FCT Education Secretary as members; and is the highest body for formulating education policies. The NCE provides a forum for consensus building on education policy directions to be implemented at different levels of education, with varying degrees of adaptations to suit specific State and local peculiarities.

The Joint Consultative Committee on Education (JCCE) comprises of professional officers of the Federal and State Ministries of Education and FCT Education Secretariat and their parastatals, as well as other relevant stakeholders. The JCCE provides the necessary framework and recommendations for consideration by the NCE. The FME has overall responsibility of formulating national education policies, coordinating implementation of policy provisions and quality control in service delivery, in accordance with NCE resolutions and directives.

The Nigerian education system is structured into:
- Early Child Care and Development aged 0 - 4 years;
- Basic Education aged 5 - 15 years. It encompasses Pre-Primary 1 year, 6 years of Primary Education and 3 years of Junior Secondary Education;
- Post-Basic Education of 3 years in Senior Secondary Schools and Technical Colleges; and
• Tertiary Education provided in Colleges of Education, Monotechnics, Polytechnics, and the Universities.

Pursuant to the commitment to the global Education for All (EFA) initiative, the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) as well as national development goals encapsulated in the National Economic Empowerment and Development Strategy (NEEDS) document, Basic Education is by law, compulsory for all children of school age in Nigeria. In public schools, it is provided free through the Universal Basic Education (UBE) which is backed by legislation (The Compulsory, Free, Universal Basic Education Act 2004). A Home-Grown School Feeding and Health Programme (HGSFHP) that provides basic health services and a free balanced meal per day for every child that attends public primary or junior secondary school is being implemented to facilitate the success of the UBE.

The need for the articulation of policy guidelines on standards, procedures, strategies and for the coordination of roles to ensure and sustain the delivery of qualitative education in Nigeria was given impetus by the outcomes of the 1969 National Curriculum Conference. Follow-up activities included wide national consultations, a seminar of experts from government educational ministries and establishments, voluntary agencies and international organisations in 1973, developed a draft document that culminated in the emergence and publication of the first National Policy on Education in 1977. The first edition of the NPE in 1977 has been successively followed by revised 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th editions published in 1981, 1988, 2004 and 2007 respectively. Revisions of the National Policy on Education have been necessitated by the need to address noticeable gaps in content and provisions that emerged in the course of implementation, maintain currency, relevance and to give adequate attention to new opportunities, issues and challenges.
The revision and updating of the (2007) 5th edition of the National Policy on Education was informed by the need to:

(a) Situate the education sector within the overall context of governments' reform agenda enunciated in the National Economic Empowerment and Development Strategy (NEEDS);

(b) reposition the Nigerian education sector to effectively meet the challenges of the EFA initiative, MDGs and NEEDS;

(c) improve and refocus education quality and service delivery for the accelerated attainment of NEEDS goals of social and economic transformation, wealth creation, poverty reduction, employment generation and value reorientation, as well as meet the ideals of the Transformation Agenda of the President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria;

(d) reflect, accommodate and respond to UBE, the provisions of the UBE Act and the implications for the education sector;

(e) incorporate all new sub-sector policies to reflect global development;

(f) achieve public ownership of the National Policy on Education and improve compliance with its provisions through consensus building in its development and strengthened implementation monitoring; and

(g) reflect the National Vision of attaining global economic relevance by 2020, Roadmap for the Development of the Nigerian Education Sector, the (4) Four Year Strategy Plan for the Development of the Education Sector (2011 - 2015) and the government's white paper on the report of the Presidential Task Team on Education.
This 6th Edition of the National Policy on Education restates Nigeria's national goals and the philosophy of education, specifies the goals and objectives education should accomplish, defines the structure and strategies for its provision, sets guidelines and required standards for its delivery, management and for quality assurance. It further clarifies the responsibilities of the three tiers of government, their agencies and all other education stakeholders. This edition highlights and emphasizes:

(a) The consolidation of Pre-Primary, Primary and Junior Secondary Education to a 10-Year Basic Education in line with UBE and its establishment Act;

(b) improved quality assurance, restructuring and enhancing the capacities of Federal and States/FCT Inspectorate Services through effective performance evaluation;

(c) the development and maintenance of a credible and up-to-date National Education Management and Information System (NEMIS) and corresponding State Education Management and Information Systems (SEMIS);

(d) the effective use of strategic planning to improve the quality of education provision and service delivery;

(e) improving teacher quality through professionalizing the teaching profession in Nigeria and the provision of more in-service training opportunities and other incentives for teachers; and

(f) better coordination, collaboration and networking of activities, programmes and interventions of all tiers of government, development partners and all other stakeholders in the Nigerian education sector to eliminate overlaps, achieve and sustain synergy.

To effectively address the persistent gaps in education policy provisions and implementation in Nigeria, the process of the development and articulation of this 6th edition of the National Policy on Education involved collective and wide consultations coordinated by the Nigerian Educational Research and Development Council (NERDC) through the High Level Policy Committee comprising State Commissioners of Education/FCT Education Secretary, Directors in the Federal Ministry of Education and their Parastatals, International Development Partners, Professional and other relevant bodies.

This is to ensure that the perspectives and inputs of the three tiers of government, development partners and all other stakeholders are, as much as possible, accommodated and infused. It is therefore expected that the National Policy on Education will be publicly owned, internalized and complied with by all. To leverage this expectation, Federal, State/FCT and Local governments shall establish and adequately empower Special Policy Implementation Monitoring Units within the appropriate existing structures in their Ministries of Education and Local Government Education Authorities and diligently monitor and provide necessary feedback on compliance.

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The need for an all-inclusive transformation of the Nigerian state assumed an urgent and critical dimension with the return of democratic rule. This transformational drive is encapsulated in the country's vision 20:2020, which aims at having a large, strong, diversified, sustainable and competitive economy that effectively harnesses the talents and energies of its people and responsibly exploits its natural endowments to guarantee a high standard of living and quality of life to its citizens.

This quest was further given impetus by the Transformation Agenda of the present democratic administration, led by Dr. Goodluck Ebele Jonathan GCFR, President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, which places great emphasis on Human Capital Development. Thus, both the Vision 20:2020 and the Transformation Agenda are anchored on the recognition that the people are the most essential assets of any nation. Thus, this brings education to the fore in the quest to the attainment of these national ideals.

In Nigeria, education is regarded as “an instrument per excellence for social and economic reconstruction of the nation”. Government regard education as key to the realization of Nigeria's collective aspiration of being among the top 20 developed nations of the world by the year 2020.

The development and review of the National Policy on Education therefore, is to provide a building block to giving a direction and improving the quality of education through effective teaching, learning, management, administration and counseling. In this process, it is expected that the educational activity is such that engages this policy preparations for leveraging the limitless possibilities of education in promoting the development of work-related skills and abilities, life-long learning and empowering people's participation in all socio-economic process for rapid transformation of the Nigerian nation.

Given this strategic position of the education sector, it became extremely imperative to have a robust and broadened national policy for the education sector that clearly specifies the roles and responsibilities of the various organs and agencies of the government in the context of the nation's vision and aspirations. This, therefore, necessitated the revision and updating of the existing National Policy on Education as encapsulated in the Presidential Task Team on Education Report.

The development and articulation of the present edition of the National Policy on Education commenced with setting up of High Level Policy Committee (HLPC) coordinated by the Nigerian Educational Research and Development Council (NERDC) as directed by the National Council on Education. The development process involved active participation and inputs from a broad spectrum of Nigerians. Professionals from the Federal Ministry of Education, State Ministries of Education/ FCT Education Secretariat, education agencies/parastatals, teachers associations, representatives from the private sector, as well as international development partners and non-governmental organisations, contributed to the Policy review process.

The first stage in the revision of the National Policy on Education (NPE) is the development of a comprehensive strategic plan that comprised of 10 thematic areas. Consequently, 10 Technical Working Groups that comprised of leading experts and professionals on the various thematic areas were constituted. The Groups met for a minimum of four times and submitted their reports to the HLPC for ratification and forwarding to the Joint Consultative Committee on Education for further inputs by all stakeholders in the education sector and the general public. For a wider sectorial adoption and in line with policy formulation approach in the sector, the revised NPE was presented to the National Council on Education at its 60th Meeting held in June 2013. The August body, which is the highest policy making body in the Nigerian Education Sector, approved the Policy document to be printed, widely disseminated and used for the repositioning of education in Nigeria.

The National Policy on Education, which was developed for and by the Nigerian people, clearly offers strategies to drive the full realization of Nigeria’s desire to becoming a leading world economy.

I wish to thank the President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, Dr. Goodluck Ebele Jonathan, GCFR, for his visionary leadership and for constituting the Presidential Task Team on Education as part of his Transformation Agenda, whose Report recommended the review of the NPE. I also wish to acknowledge and thank all those who contributed to making this policy a success. I wish therefore, to urge all stakeholders to embrace and make optimal use of the NPE for the benefit of all Nigerians.
